INTRODUCTION

MCC is committed to ensuring that cricket is a game for all, and that Lord's is a Ground where everyone feels welcome. These are the guiding principles which inform our Equity, Diversity and Inclusion (EDI) plan for 2022-23.

We have been building progressive plans as a Club for some time to ensure MCC and Lord's are open and inclusive, indeed Members may recall the Focused on our Future Paper, published in 2018. This area took on particular significance in the summer of 2020, leading to this EDI Plan. At that time, I set up a staff working group to explore and gain a deeper understanding of the racial issues that staff experience both in a personal and professional capacity. These meetings were powerful and eye-opening, and I am hugely thankful to those who volunteered to take part. I personally learnt a great amount and it showed that, while there are many positives, there are also areas we can improve upon at the Club.

The working group helped to develop a set of actions that we are now taking forward, including the creation of an MCC EDI staff education programme. Our first learning activity, which took place in 2021, was anti-racism training delivered to all staff and the MCC Main Committee in conjunction with the UK's largest anti-racism education charity, Show Racism the Red Card. These initial sessions aimed to help staff understand the effect racism has on individuals and how to address issues they witness.

At the start of the 2021 cricket season we made changes to our incident reporting procedures to simplify the process for those needing to contact us with their concerns. The new system, which we promote proactively in our communications, is available for anyone to report a concerning or serious incident relating to MCC or Lord's (for further details please refer to the Useful Information section on p25 of this plan). Our disciplinary procedures are robust and confidential, and matters reported to us are handled swiftly and sensitively.

In tandem with these initiatives, we embarked upon a comprehensive review of cricket, race and empire with respect to the historic MCC Collection and Archive and conducted surveys with our Members and staff to understand more about them and their respective relationship with the Club. Meanwhile, we continue to expand our Community Department and Foundation's charitable work to help under-represented groups to flourish through cricket.

On 3 November 2021, we published our first Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) report. The report, Building a Sustainable Future, sets out our actions to date, and commitments for the future, in these three core areas. This EDI plan, that I am now pleased to introduce, details the specific actions we will take this year to deliver these objectives and we will report on progress in our 2022 Annual Report.

Cricket is our national summer sport. It encourages leadership, friendship and teamwork and brings people together from different nationalities, cultures and backgrounds. Our overarching goal is that MCC is an organisation that welcomes all manner of lifestyles and perspectives, that embraces diversity and fosters inclusion. A place where the Spirit of Cricket - kindness, fairness and respect - is felt on and off the playing field and embodied in everything that we do.

EQUITY, DIVERSITY AND INCLUSION ACTIONS

MCC resolved in 2020 that its Sustainability Strategy should be aligned to the UN Agenda for Sustainable Development and follow the UN's 17 Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) until 2030. These goals incorporate the activities of an organisation in areas of community and social work, gender equality, work on anti-discrimination, and peace and justice.

Of the 17 SDGs, MCC has prioritised three goals, specifically in relation to EDI, with which the Club can best align and deliver impactful change across its business.

MCC will deliver its EDI objectives via six broad areas of activity. These actions focus primarily on the ESG Report's short-term Social goals (2022-23), along with work already in progress on longer-term initiatives.

CONCLUSION

MCC is committed to the progressive plans set out in this document in order to ensure that Lord's is accessible to all.

We believe in bringing about real and tangible change which can only be achieved if the game works together collectively to drive out discrimination. Accordingly, we signed the ECB's game-wide EDI pledge in November 2021.

Change can take time. Many of the improvements documented in this plan have been in progress at the Club for some time to welcome a more diverse audience, regardless of gender, race, class, disability, religion, sexual orientation, age and beyond. In order to deliver long-term and effective change for the good of the game, we must ensure any evolution goes through due process and that we are fully accountable for our actions.

Being kind, fair and respectful to others are principles at the heart of the Spirit of Cricket, preamble to the Laws of Cricket, of which we are the proud custodian. Stephen Fry, at the conclusion of the 2021 MCC Cowdrey Lecture expressed the feeling of the moment eloquently. He said:

"Unless all our nation's sons and daughters with the talent and desire to have a life in cricket are confident that cricket will want to have a life with them, the Spirit of Cricket, its very flame, will flicker and go out. Let's dedicate ourselves to ensuring that that will never happen".

So we too dedicate ourselves to keeping this flame burning brightly, for the good of our Club, our Ground and the wider game.
